ITL'S LONG STANDING US LITIGATION COMES TO AN END

ITL (ASX:ITD), has received the US Court of Appeals decision on the long running 'Platypus' patent infringement case between DSU Medical Corporation Vs ITL & JMS (ITL's US Distributor).

The Court has upheld the original April 2004 jury decision, in which ITL was found not to be infringing.

CEO Bill Mobbs said today:

"This Court of Appeals decision means that there is no further impact on ITL's business. The costs associated with the original judgment were recognised in the 2004 income statement and all litigation costs have been expensed.

We can now put this matter behind us and focus on the future."
