ITL SIGNS CONTRACT WITH AFFINITY HEALTH.

ITL has recently signed a major new contract with Australia's largest private hospital operator, Affinity Health (formerly Mayne Health).

ITL will supply Affinity Health with haemodynamic monitoring kits for patients in high dependency units. The contract is for a 1 + 1 year term and is expected to generate revenues in excess of $1 million. Deliveries of the monitoring kits are expected to flow early in the new year.

ITL currently supplies its range of Customised Procedure Packs to 26 of Affinity's 45 private hospitals around Australia.

ITL Managing director, Bill Mobbs, says the deal with Affinity Health strengthens ITL's position in the Australian healthcare sector. Monitoring kits are a growth area of the market and we'll be looking to extend our influence both in Australia and overseas.

"We are delighted to have secured this new supply contract with Affinity Health. They are the largest and one of the most influential private hospital groups in Australia and this deal consolidates our existing strong relationship with Affinity. "

ITL is an Australian owned company that sells Customised Procedure Packs & Kits into 160 hospitals throughout Australia and is expanding its range of products and presence in the Private and Public Area health services and hospital groups across Australia.

ITL (ASX: ITD, www.itl-limited.com) specialises in creating innovative medical devices and procedure kits for global healthcare markets. ITL manufactures in Australia and Malaysia, exports into 35 countries and has representative offices in North America, Europe, and Asia.
